In this issue of the Kentuckian we are publishing extracts from writings by President Wilson, former President Wm. H. Taft, Gov. James B. McCreary and other prominent men, regarding Rural Credit. This is a subject which is today of more interest to the farmer than any other. We hope to publish from time to time such data as will give them an intelligent idea of Rural credit and what it means to the Kentucky farmers.

VICTIM OF TUBERCULOSIS
Gus O'Brien Dies at Pembroke, After Lingering Illness, of The Disease.

Gus O'Brien, formerly a resident of this city and for over eight years a valued salesman in the shoe department of J. H. Anderson & Co., died of tuberculosis Thursday afternoon at about 3:30 o'clock at the home of J. R. Waugh, in Pembroke, where he boarded.

Mr. O'Brien had many friends here and was well liked by everyone. He left here nearly four years ago and had been residing in Pembroke since that time.

Mr. O'Brien was 32 years old. He was a native of Todd county. One brother, McDonald O'Brien, of Pembroke, survives.

His funeral services were conducted at the residence of his aunt, Mrs. T. D. Jameson, yesterday afternoon and the interment took place in the Pembroke cemetery.

SOME MORE FAR AWAY BOYS
Send In Their Cards With Words of Approval In Every Case.

More enrollment cards from Ferrell's Boys are coming in every day, but many invitations sent to the last known addresses are being returned. The boys on all side are evincing a lively interest.

Here are some of the late respondents:

Thos. G. Dade, '87, Fort Smith, Ark., manufacturer. "If I can possibly do so will certainly take advantage of this opportunity to again renew acquaintances with my school day friends."

Chas. G. McDaniel, '76, Louisville, Ky., bookkeeper. "I hope many of the boys will be with us Aug. 20, am sure none will be more anxious than I to be there."

Edward F. McGehee, '90, Como, Miss., merchant and planter.

Geo. W. Newman, '84, coal operator, Hawesville, Ky. "I shall certainly be with you on Aug. 20, without providential hindrance. Please remember me kindly to two in particular of my old school friends, H. L. McPherson and W. T. Cooper."

Roy C. Ragsdale, '91, printing, Pratt, Kan., sent in his enrollment card.

Nick B. Dicken, '90, manager Security Mutual Life Insurance Co., Nashville, sends a fine picture and says "Yes, I'm sure coming."

Clarence E. Burbridge, Adjuster Plow Co., Dallas, Tex. "Am grateful for privilege of enrolling in organization."

Another name was added to the dead yesterday, making 127 so far as known. A sad feature is that 9 or 10 of these committed suicide and almost as many more were killed, some by accident and others murdered.

LAST CALL TO T. C. HANBERY

Venerable Father of Judge J. T. Hanbery Dies at Cadiz.

SURVIVED WIFE FOUR MONTHS
Interment Was Here Yesterday Morning From I. C. Train.

Mr. Thomas C. Hanbery, for many years a resident of this city, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. White, in Cadiz, Thursday. His death was sudden. His only son, Judge J. T. Hanbery, had spent the day with him and returned feeling that he was in no immediate danger. In the afternoon he grew worse and died before his son could reach him in an automobile.

Mr. Hanbery was born in 1831 and was 84 years of age. He had not been in good health recently and had been failing rapidly since the death of his wife, March 10th, last. He was married Jan. 31, 1845 to Miss Araminta Williams, and their surviving children are Mrs. Cordie White, of Cadiz; Mrs. Sudie Shryer, and Mrs. Jno. T. Savage, of St. Louis, and Judge J. T. Hanbery, of this city.

The body arrived here yesterday morning at 11:20 and was buried from the train.

Mr. Hanbery was a life long member of the Baptist church and was a Christian man whose life was a shining example to all who knew him. He was a devoted husband and father and his grief over the death of his beloved wife was pathetic in the extreme. His pride in the achievements of his distinguished son was unbounded. He was in his active business life a tobacconist of this city and stood high as a man of integrity and uprightness of character. As a citizen he was always on the right side of every public question.

RUNAWAY ON NINTH

Horse Smashes Into Window of Keach & Fears' Furniture Store.

A runaway accident on Ninth St., occurred Thursday morning when the large white horse which has been driven to the Frank Fehr beer wagon for a short time, got frightened at an auto truck. The beer wagon driven by Robert Waller (col.) was on Ninth street in front of the depot when the horse began running, the driver losing control. The horse plunged into the plate glass window of the Keach & Fears Furniture Co., in the Chickasaw building and broke two panes of the glass out and damaging a davenport in the window.

The horse was badly cut upon the front legs and over the eye and will probably be out of use for some time. It belonged to the Boyd Bros. The beer wagon was in the service of Gates & Brackrogge, the local agents.

Lost Their Little Son.

Charles Grubbs, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Grubbs, died Wednesday night, after an illness of several weeks. Rev. J. N. Jessup conducted funeral services at the residence No. 767 East Twelfth street, Thursday afternoon and the interment took place in Riverside Cemetery.

JUST BACK FROM A TRIP
In Which He Was Full of Life and Enthusiasm All Day.

The city was greatly shocked Thursday evening by the sudden death of J. B. Gerard, the proprietor of a wallpaper store on Main street in the Hille building. Mr. Gerard had just returned with an automobile party from a barbecue in Robertson county, Tenn., and was engaged in washing his hands and was giving his wife a glowing account of the big time the visitors had, when without a moment's warning he fell to the

He was in his active business life a tobacconist of this city and stood high as a man of integrity and uprightness of character. As a citizen he was always on the right side of every public question.

In 1909 he came back to resume his old place with Forbes and soon made himself so efficient that he was put in charge of the wallpaper department. He remained in this department for two years and in 1912 decided to go into business for himself in a special line that needed developing and for which he saw a good opening, the working over of antique furniture. With a view to making this a specialty he formed the firm of Gerard & Hooser and opened a store on Main street and later bought his partner's interest. The house did all kinds of upholstering and repairing and carried a full stock of wallpaper.

It succeeded from the start and Mr. Gerard was recognized as an artist in his chosen line. He was a live, progressive business man and a useful member of the Hopkinsville Business Men's Association.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Katie Hooser, and one son, Elmer E. Gerard, a talented young vocal musician of rare promise. He also leaves one brother, Elmer Gerard, at Seattle, Wash.

The funeral services were held at the family residence at 2:30 yesterday afternoon conducted by Rev. Lewis Powell, of the Methodist church. Interment in Riverside Cemetery.

BOND ISSUE IS URGED

By Mass Meeting To Purchase McLean College Property.

JUST BACK FROM A TRIP
TO SERVE DOUBLE PURPOSE.
Provide Adequate Room For Whites and Solve Problem of Colored School.

A largely attended meeting was held at the Avalon Thursday night to discuss the advisability of purchasing the McLean College property as a grammar school to take the place of the Clay Street building erected 35 years ago and now obsolete.

T. C. Underwood was elected chairman and A. H. Eckles secretary of the meeting.

Speeches advocating the move were made by L. H. Davis, W. A. Long, R. E. Cooper, Chas. M. Meacham, W. T. Fowler, Supt. L. E. Foster and Rev. J. N. Jessup.

All of the speakers gave cogent reasons why it would be a great advantage for the city to issue $40,000 of bonds to buy this property at $30,000 and to erect a suitable building for colored people. Mr. Long pointed out that the Clay Street building could be utilized, wood and brick, in the colored building to be erected on First Street, and the lot left vacant could be sold for not less than $5,000 on a guaranty.

Prof. W. E. Gray offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved: That this meeting ask the City Council to order an election at the earliest date possible under the law, for the purpose of voting a bond issue sufficient to purchase the McLean property and to erect a suitable building for the colored people."

The chairman appointed the following committee to present the resolution to the council: Judge W. T. Fowler, Chas. M. Meacham, W. A. Long, L. E. Foster and A. H. Eckles.

While this is going on, it is believed there is little probability of the Germans detaching any part of their eastern armies for a renewed offensive in the west, and that if such a move is made it must be undertaken by fresh troops. There already is heavy fighting at several points in the west, notably in the Woerthe district, where the French have regained some of the ground lost southeast of St. Mihiel, and at Souchez, where the French have made a further advance toward the village, but there is no evidence as yet of the arrival of any new armies, which Dutch reports persistently repeat are being moved through Belgium.

The Austrians and Montenegrins have resumed fighting, and both sides claim success.

AFFECTION OF HEART

And Other Complications Cause Death of Mrs. Hille, at Roaring Spring.

Mrs. Minnie Hille, wife of Dr. H. L. J. Hille, died Wednesday night at her home at Roaring Spring. She had been ill, suffering from a complication of diseases for about two months, but the immediate cause of death was heart failure. She was about 60 years old and before her marriage was Miss Minnie Waters, of Dover, Tenn. Mrs. Hille was a most estimable lady and leaves a host of friends. Besides her husband, she is survived by seven children. They are Dr. Henry Hille, of Oklahoma; Messrs. G. C. and Bernard Hille, Mrs. W. L. Caudle and Misses Alberta, Bessie May and Kate Hille. After a short service yesterday morning at her late home the remains were brought here and interred in Riverside cemetery.

Austrian Torpedo Sends Warship Amalfi to Bottom in Adriatic.

London, July 9.—The Italian navy has suffered its first serious loss, an Austrian submarine having torpedoed the cruiser Amalfi in the Adriatic. Most of the crew were saved.

This is the second allied warship to fall victim to an Austrian underwater craft. The French cruiser Leander Gambetta earlier in the war was caught in the Ionian sea.

As an offset, it is claimed that a French warship has sunk a German submarine in the channel, while the British admiralty announces that it was a British submarine which torpedoed a German warship in the Baltic recently, although no details are added to the brief statement of the Russian official communication the day

Danger Signals of Tuberculosis

In a previous article, it was stated that nearly everybody has tuberculosis at some time or other during his lifetime. Autopsies on people have shown that hardly a single human being reaches mature life without a scar on his lungs or elsewhere showing where tuberculosis had attacked him, and he, by his normal resistance and vitality, had warded off the continuation of the attack. Because tuberculosis is so widespread, every man, woman and child should give the most careful attention to those signs of the disease which point out danger. The treacherous disease germs may enter the body in early childhood and may not cause any serious trouble for ten or fifteen years. Then, all of a sudden, when the body is weakened by overwork, worry, sickness, or bad living and working conditions, these sleeping germs wake up and become active in the destruction of the lungs or other organs. The working man or woman, therefore, cannot be too careful in the safeguarding of health and in watching out for those symptoms which indicate that the disease of tuberculosis is actually present. What, then, are some of the danger signals and what should be done about them?

(1) First of all, there is a cough that hangs on and will not clear up. If it lasts for a month or longer, it is a red light, a danger signal, which you cannot afford to ignore. It may start with wet feet or some other insignificant circumstance, but no matter how the cough started, if it does not go away, see your doctor at once. Colds frequently weaken the bodily tone and resistance, so that it is easy for the lurking germs to get a foothold.

(2) Loss of weight, accompanied by a loss of appetite, and a certain amount of "stomach trouble" is another danger signal, which you must not pass unheeded. Sometimes loss of weight may come from some other cause than tuberculosis, but it pays to be on your guard. You may not have a cough, and you may experience very little trouble except a sort of chronic weariness. You ought to know what your normal weight should be. If you begin to lose five, ten or more pounds without any apparent reason, look for sound medical advice at once. Sometimes with loss of weight goes a loss of appetite, and trouble with bowels and stomach, even running to diarrhea. Whether you are losing much weight or not, look out for this danger signal. It is a warning that something is wrong.

(3) Then there is that run-down, all-the-time-tired feeling. Most people have days when they feel unusually tired, for some reason or other. Such an occasional period of "spring fever" or "lazy liver" may not be at all dangerous, but when every day for two or three weeks you hate to get up and dread to do anything but lie around and be lazy, there is danger ahead. This is Nature's warning to you that some enemy inside your body is sapping your vitality. Don't ignore the warning signal!

(4) Anyone of the three symptoms just mentioned may occur singly or all of them may come at one time. When, to any or all, there is added a fever in the late afternoon or during the night, accompanied possibly by sweats, beware of this danger signal. It is a bright red flag which Nature waves before you, cautioning you to give immediate heed. Anyone's temperature may rise at times, some people's more easily than others. But when for a week every afternoon about four or five o'clock you've felt feverish, or when night after night you wake up in a dripping sweat, you may rest assured that there is nothing normal about that. Go to your doctor at once and tell him about it. You may have no cough and no other sign of disease, and this may be the only warning you'll get. Give heed to it at once.

(5) If you have a cough and in spitting you find streaks of blood in your sputum, you may rest assured that something is wrong. It may not be a direct sign of tuberculosis, but whatever it is, you should attend to it at once. You cannot afford to waste time putting it off. Nature may give you that more emphatic warning of the presence of tuberculosis, a hemorrhage of the lungs. If so, don't be scared unduly. It is a danger signal, and if you heed it, you may be safe.

There are other danger signals, some which you can see and some which only a trained physician can detect. Your safety lies in getting medical attention as early as possible. Tuberculosis can be cured if it is discovered in time. The time to discover it is when the first symptoms show themselves. Don't take chances with Death. You'll lose every time.

Go to a good doctor, if you notice any of these danger signals, and insist that he examine you stripped to the waist. If you can't afford a doctor, go to a free clinic and be examined. It may cost a few dollars to be examined, but it may save you hundreds of dollars, untold suffering, and possibly your life and that of your wife and family.

"SAFETY FIRST" is a motto that applies to tuberculosis, especially when it is first showing itself.

SLUMP IN PRICE OF LEAD

Drop Last October Was the Lowest in Fifteen Years, Despite a Big Output.

IN THE CARPATHIAN PASSES

Wild Country Where Teuton and Slav
Are at Present Struggling for Supremacy.

The price of lead, instead of being enhanced by the European conflict, actually slumped in October to the lowest point reached in the last fifteen years, although 100,000 more tons of the refined metal was produced in 1914 than during the previous year, declares the advance statement just issued by the geological survey. The exports of lead from this country to Europe since the war began have not increased in proportion to the increase in exports of zinc and some other metals.

The total production of refined lead from both domestic and foreign ores was 542,122 short tons, compared with 462,460 tons in 1913. The production of refined lead from domestic ores was 512,794 tons, an increase of 100,916 tons over the record figures reached in 1913.

No domestic pig lead had ever been exported from the United States prior to 1914. Generally the price of lead in this country, owing to the tariff, exceeds the price abroad.

Lead was consistently higher in London in 1914 than in New York, and this, together with the scarcity of Mexican lead, caused the large exports of domestic lead.

JITNEYS TO OUT TAXIS.

The widely known jitney is out and about like the flowers of spring over this whole broad land. It may prosper or it may not, and time will tell; but there are one or two things to notice concerning the "craze," as street railway people call it.

The jitney's success is the taxicab's failure. The latter has never been much more than an instrument of luxury, bluff, or crime in many of our cities (see the movies for proof). The taxicab people have not given the service.

Most folks help pay for paved streets; they like to ride thereon in motor cars, and the jitney gives them a chance as nothing else ever did. If it gives real service, it will last.—Collier's Weekly.

An old writer, John Bulwer, in his "Pathomymotoma" (1649), says: "But true laughter hath both the effects of the intellectual part as the principle upon which the dilatation of the heart and contraction of the countenance ensue, it being not only an affection of the body, but totius conjuncti of the whole man."

ALIKE IN THEIR FEELINGS

Sample of the Unhappy Conditions
Created by the Great Conflict in Europe.

They were sitting in a cafe near Washington square. On the table between them lay a "war extra" with staring headlines. The big, blond man, a typical Teuton, was talking loudly with many gestures; the small, dark man, unmistakably Gallic, listened—safe for an occasional flash of the eye—with apparent calm. Two later comers at a nearby table watched them.

"Do you understand German?" asked one. "Can you tell me what the big fellow is saying?"

"I can make out most of it," replied his companion, "and I know who the men are: Johann Schulz and Pierre Dumont."

"Jove!" exclaimed the first, as the big man leaned forward and pounded the table vehemently, "he'll be pitching into the little chap next."

"Oh, no," said the other spectator, "the two agree to a dot. Johann is calling the Germans "Lumpe" and "Diebe" and "verdammte Schweine" and about every other abusive name he can lay tongue to. Queer, isn't it, when he can speak hardly a word of any other language but German? But, you see, he happens to be an Alsatian. His national hymn of hate is directed accordingly.—New York Evening Post.

PROFITS OF SHEEP MEN CUT

Depredations of Dogs Cause Immense
Annual Loss to the Raisers of the Animals.

Thirty-six of the states of the Union are classified as agricultural states. The United States department of agriculture has recently completed an estimate of the number of sheep killed by dogs every year. The estimate is based upon figures collected for 1913. It shows that in the 36 agricultural states the annual loss totals 107,760. Ohio's loss reaches 15,500 yearly; Indiana, 12,000; Iowa, 11,000; Kentucky, 6,600; Illinois, 1,920 and other states in proportion.

The total loss compared with the number of sheep shown by the 1910 census seems small. It is less than one per cent of the sheep population of the country. However, that sheep grower who is getting a return of five per cent on his investment, taking one year with another, is doing well. This makes a loss of one per cent loom up dangerously. Nor is the loss of one per cent from dog depredations the worst feature of the situation. The dread of what dogs may do to the flock is preventing any increase in sheep keeping. To the question, "What causes are preventing an increase in sheep raising?" 531 of 894 growers answered "Dogs!"

MORE PRECIOUS THAN LIFE.

One American with the legion was telling me of a zouave battalion that was fighting in the same part of the line with him, and at a charge of the zouaves the commandant suddenly cried out, "Lie down," as a hail of German shells came over them. They all dropped but one.

"Nom de Dieu, lie down!" the lieutenant colonel called out, furiously, to the one man.

This zouave tapped his large pocket and called back to his chief:

"Mon colonel, I can't! I've got a quart bottle full of wine in here and it hasn't any cork in it."—Boston Journal.

Paint Lick, Ky.—Mrs. Mary Freeman, of this place, says: "Before I commenced to take Cardui, I suffered so much from womanly trouble, I was so weak that I was down on my back nearly all the time. Cardui has done me more good than any medicine I ever took in my life. I can't possibly praise it too highly." You need not be afraid to take Cardui. It is no new experiment. For fifty years, it has been found to relieve headache, backache, and similar womanly troubles. Composed of gentle-acting, herb, ingredients. Cardui builds up the strength, preventing much unnecessary pain. Try it for your troubles, today. Advertisement.

PROVED HIMSELF BEST MAN

Attitude of Quiet Student Satisfied
Coach as to Selection to Make for the Crew.

A few seasons ago, says a prominent crew in Outing, two men were competing closely for a seat in the "varsity" boat. One day I called them together, and said:

"Just now you two men are working equally well in the boat, but one has better scholarship standing than the other, and to me that seems to indicate that one of you has a little more personal pride than the other."

As a matter of fact, the man who was not up to the scratch in his work was a bit better of the two, as far as smoothness in the boat was concerned. I thought the incident might cause him to pick up in his classes. It did not. When the time came to make a final selection of the eight I again called the pair in to see me.

"It's still hard to decide between you two. I would just as soon have you throw a coin to decide the winner," I said.

The man with the poor scholarship record was the first to speak.

"That's all right with me," he said.

The other man thought for a minute. I saw his mouth go tight. Then he said:

"No, sir, that doesn't suit me. One of us must be the best man. I want to know which, and to know why I am not the best man."

Some people would probably have thought that fellow conceited, but not if they knew what it means for a youngster to put in months and months of hard training for a crew. The second man was of a quiet type, but after he spoke I knew the thing that every coach is most anxious to find out—that he was the kind who would be pulling hardest when his lungs were feeling like bursting in that last hard half mile. You can guess which man got the place. The man who did not was too easily satisfied.

ROGUES' MARCH IS OLD TUNE

Believed to Have Been Played by the British Army Earlier Than the Eighteenth Century.

A very characteristic and lively military quickstep, which dates from early in the eighteenth century, is what is now known as the Rogues' March. The name was given to it because it was customary to play it when a soldier was expelled or drummed out of the English army. This was the penalty incurred for various crimes, that of theft being the prevailing offense that gave the air its especial name of the Rogues' March. The ceremony that took place when such an offender was to be punished is quite ancient, and consists in the culprit having the buttons bearing the regimental number and all other military decorations cut off his uniform, and then being marched to the music of drums and fifes playing the march to the gates of the barracks and then kicked or thrust outside. The exact date of the inauguration of this military punishment is not known, but is conjectured to be older than the eighteenth century. It is still in use in the British army, and the air of the march always played on such occasions has been occasionally utilized for such old songs as "Abraham Newlands," "Robinson Crusoe" and "The Tight Little Island."

Austrian Naval Stronghold.
Since the Austrians made the city of Pola their chief base in 1848 they have accomplished wonders there. It is claimed that with the assistance of submarines and aircraft Pola is virtually impregnable. Its commodious harbor, almost land-locked, has been enlarged so that it easily contains the entire Austrian fleet. It is divided into two basins by a chain of small islands. The entrance is strongly defended, and an extensive system of fortifications on the hills enclosing the harbor insures complete protection. There is a good roadstead in the large channel of Fasana, which separates the mainland from the Brionian islands. The marine arsenal of Pola is a vast establishment with all the requisites for a large fleet. Artillery laboratories and powder magazines are situated on the north shore, and behind the arsenal is San Policarpo, with huge barracks and hospitals.

Someone Swiped Overdrafts.

Bert Mitchener, a deputy bank examiner, tells this story, according to the Kansas City Star: "Not long ago a bank in a small town elected a new president. The man had been president but a short time when the banking department received a telegram from him asking that an examiner be sent at once. The examiner went, but feeling certain that the bank was in good shape, went direct to the president, who was not an active officer, and asked the cause of his anxiety. 'Why,' exclaimed the man, 'when I was elected president of the bank the overdrafts according to the books, were about eight hundred dollars. Yes, sir! Well, I was in there yesterday looking over the books and they showed the overdrafts only a little over two hundred dollars. What's become of that six hundred dollars?'

GOVERNOR JAMES B. McCREARY

Now Governor of Kentucky and President of the Kentucky Rural Credits Association.

"The rural credit system of supplying land owners and farmers with long time loans at low rate of interest is meeting with general approval wherever introduced and I feel honored in being made president of the Kentucky association."

"I was one of the five members appointed to represent the United States at the monetary conference held at the Hague and made a close study of the system in operation in France, Germany and Belgium. It has worked wonders in assisting the farmers of those countries to secure loans at a moderate interest rate and on long time. There are now two bills pending in Congress giving aid and co-operation to the system."

"It has been approved by President Roosevelt, President Taft and has been commended by President Woodrow Wilson."

The subject of rural credits was mentioned in the platforms of all the great political parties in 1912, and each pledged itself to action for the betterment of credit facilities on the farm. The Democratic platform declared that the question is "of equal importance with the question of currency reform." The Republican platform contains substantially the same declaration: It is as important that financial machinery be provided to supply the needs of the farmer for credit as it is that the banking and currency systems be reformed in the interest of general business." The Progressive party pledged itself "to foster the development of agricultural credit."

EX-PRESIDENT, W. H. TAFT, ON RURAL CREDIT.

The twelve millions of farmers of the United States add each year to the national wealth $8,400,000,000. They are doing this on a borrowed capital of $6,040,000,000. On this sum they pay annually interest charges of $510,000,000. Counting commissions and renewal charges, the interest rate paid by the farmer of this country is averaged at 8½ per cent, as compared to a rate of 4½ to 3½ per cent. paid by the farmers, for instance, of France or Germany.

Again, the interest rate paid by the American farmer is considerably higher than that paid by our industrial corporations, railroads, or municipalities. Yet, I think, it will be admitted that the security offered by the farmer in his farm lands is quite as sound as that offered by industrial corporations. Why, then, will not the investor furnish the farmer with money at as advantageous rates as he is willing to supply it to the industrial corporation.

SENATOR DUNCAN U. FLETCHER CHAIR-

MAN OF THE COMMISSION SENT TO EUROPE BY

PRESIDENT WILSON TO STUDY RURAL CREDITS SAYS:

"Our financial system has for 50 years been, and is yet, a commercial system. It has been adapted to the requirements of the merchant, manufacturer, and other business undertakings, but not only did not supply what the farmer needed, but on the other hand, discriminated against him by striking over his chief asset, real estate, as security for loans."

PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON ON RURAL CREDIT.

"Systems of Rural Credits have been studied and developed on the other side of the waters, while we left our farmers to shift for themselves in the ordinary money market. You have but to look about you in any rural district to see the result, the handicap and embarrassment which have been placed upon those who produce our food."—Advertisement.

Complaints Filed.

Washington, July 8.—Complaint has been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Memphis, Tenn., Merchants' Exchange against the Illinois Central and other railroads that rates on grain from Illinois points to Evansville, Ind., Henderson, Ky., and Memphis are higher than to Cairo, Ill., and that there is an unjust discrimination in favor of Cairo.

Lost Money and Life.

Mayfield, Ky., July 8.—Mrs. Mary Price, while attempting to save $55 in money when her home burned near Pryorsburg, was fatally burned before she could be rescued through a window where she had entered in an effort to get the money. She was eighty-three years of age.

Killed At Paduah.

A. Barfield, an employee at the Lucas Land & Lumber company, was arrested at Paduah on the charge of killing Ed Pegram, 24 years of age, son of a huckster, and wounding George Feagin, 25 years of age, a former convict, near Barfield's home at the southern edge of the city about 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

Milking Machine.

A. J. Culver, of near Casy, has installed a Hitman milking machine, which enables him to milk his cows in a much shorter time and at less expense than by hand milking. Several of these machines have been put in over the county within the past few months and others are preparing to install them.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES

Will Establish a Woodpile For The Unemployed People.

The Associated Charities Association met Thursday night at the agent's office in the court house building. In the absence of President C. M. Thompson, who was out of town, Rev. G. C. Abbott presided over the meeting. The local agent, Mrs. Lillian Gillock, gave a report of her trip to the state meeting of united charity associations at Louisville last week, and offered many valuable suggestions to the association.

It was decided to establish here a woodpile patterned after the one in Louisville, where the unemployed might find suitable work. J. E. McPherson, Rev. G. C. Abbott and Mrs. T. C. Underwood were appointed as committee to have the matter in charge.

A large number of directors were present at the meeting and much interest was shown in the work.

SIXTY DOLLARS TAKEN

As Result of Post Office Robbery at Wallonia.

On Sunday, June 27th, between sundown and dark, the post office at Wallonia was entered and robbed of $63.70. Entrance was made into the building by prizing open a back window. Jas. T. Mitchell, the postmaster, was at supper when the robbery took place. The money was in a shot sack in a show case, and the thief took only the paper and silver, leaving a large number of pennies in the sack. Between forty and fifty dollars of Mr. Mitchell's personal money in another sack in the same show case was overlooked. While there are strong suspicions as to who the guilty parties are, there has yet been no clue that would tend to convict the guilty.—Cadir Record.

TURKS ATTACK.

French Declare Effort to Drive Out Allies Was a Failure.

Paris, July 8.—The French war department gave out the following statement on the recent operations in the Dardanelles:

In the Dardanelles on the fifth of July, the Turks delivered a general attack, the most important they have undertaken since their efforts in the early days of May. Their purpose was to drive us into the sea.

"At 4 o'clock in the morning a very intense artillery fire was opened on our first lines, as well as the zone behind these lines occupied by French and British troops. The enemy subsequently endeavored to deliver several infantry attacks, but not one was successful in coming as far as our trenches. Decimated by our artillery fire and mowed down by our rifles and our machine guns, most of our assailants never left the field of battle. During this action batteries of the enemy on the Asiatic coast fired without interruption. A Turkish cruiser, steaming between Maidos and Chanak, also took part in the engagement. On several different occasions aviators of the enemy bombarded our lines.

"At the end of the day a group of about fifteen British and French aviators flew over the Turkish aerodrome at Chanak, threw down several bombs and were successful in striking the principal hangar with a big bomb."

Thursday's War News.

Upon President Wilson now rests the decision as to what reply, if any, shall be sent to Ambassador Gerard's message outlining the tentative draft of a note submitted to him informally by the German Foreign Office as a proposed answer to the American communication. There is little doubt in official quarters, it is stated, that the German proposals in their present form will be unacceptable to the United States.

With their eyes on Trieste the Italians, the past few days, have rate actions along the Isonzo front. Of these little has been recorded in the official communications, but correspondents say the Plateau of Dobro, which is of great strategic value with respect to an advance on Trieste, has been the scene of one of the heaviest bombardments of the entire campaign.

On the Gallipoli peninsula Turkish attacks continued July 4, the period covered by the latest report received from Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton. Infantry attacks of the Turks were preceded by several bombardments, in one of which 5,000 rounds of artillery ammunition were expended. The Turks gained a footing in one British trench, but were driven out.

Attention is still riveted on the crucial front in the East between the Rivers Vistula and Bug, in Southern Poland, where the Teutonic forces have been hurling themselves against a stubborn Russian resistance in an attempt to clear the way to Warsaw. The Russian forces, which have been retreating before the Austro-Germans, now are holding their ground with the aid of strong reinforcements, and in the battle raging near Krasnik, and east and northeast of that place the Russians have inflicted heavy losses on their adversaries.

The campaign in Belgium and France has been confined largely to artillery action. One strong offensive movement by the Germans in the forest of Apremont was stopped eventually by French, who report that the Germans made no new gains.

Father of 25 Children.

Munfordville, Ky., July 8—John Bennett one of the best known men of the Green river section, died of senility at his home in this county, near the Green county line. He was in his ninety-third year. He was married three times and was the father of twenty-five children, all of whom lived to be grown except two, who died in infancy. He is survived by his last wife and nineteen children, 130 grandchildren and nearly the same number of great-grandchildren.

NO EXPORTATION OF DYESTUFFS

From Germany Unless Arrangements Are Made to Supply Her With Cotton.

Washington, July 9.—Efforts of the United States government to secure dyestuffs from Germany for American manufacturers have reached a deadlock which appears unbreakable, and officials here expressed little hope of an arrangement being made which would give this country a supply of German-made colors.

State department officials will continue their negotiation but it is practically certain that Germany will not permit the exportation of dyestuffs unless some arrangement is made which will give Germany a much needed supply of American cotton. The German government is understood to have taken the position that unless American cotton reaches German ports no dyestuffs will be released for export.

Crew Found Alive.

Amsterdam, via London, July 5.—The German submarine U-30, sunk off the mouth of the Ems through an accident, has been raised and only one man of the crew, who for 36 hours were on the seabottom, is dead, according to dispatches to the Telegraaf.

The underwater boat has been towed to a Emden for repairs.

RAVAGES OF BLACK BLIGHT

"Pear Black" Infecting Orchards all Over the United States.

Frankfort, Ky., July 9.—"Pear black" or "black blight," an infectious disease which has infested orchards in the United States for a century, is making serious ravages in Kentucky, particularly among the pear trees; but it has also made inroads in apple and quince orchards. The disease has become so widespread that J. H. Carmody, horticulturist at the State Experiment Station, told Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman that he would not advise the planting of pear trees until some way to cope with the blight has been discovered.

Commissioner Newman has received many inquiries about the pest, but said that he will not issue a bulletin. The subject is thoroughly covered in a bulletin issued by the State Experiment Station, and may be obtained there upon request.

This is the time of the year to cut off the infected twigs, as the extent of the spore's operation can be seen. After the leaves fall off it cannot be determined where the amputation should take place.

EXPLOSION AT SEA

Starts a Fire That Was Controlled in Time.

New York, July 9.—While the steamship Minnehaha, afire at sea with 15,000 tons of war munitions aboard, was speeding to Halifax, N. S., Atlantic transport line officials and authorities here were banding every effort to learn if the blaze could have been the work of Frank Holt, assailant of J. P. Morgan, who had given warning that a steamship would sink in mid-ocean July 7. The Minnehaha is due to reach Halifax today. Captain Claret's last message said the fire was under control. It started Wednesday from an explosion in a forward hold far away from the ammunition.

Who Raise Cattle,
Hogs And Sheep.

Did you know that when you sell your cattle, hogs and sheep to a live stock dealer that he makes from 1 cent to 1 1/2 cents per lb. in the transaction? And if that be true you are the loser. The profits to a stock dealer or middle man on a 1,000 lb. cow or a steer would be at least $10. He just turns it over to the local butcher the same day of purchase, while you, Mr. Farmer, have had the trouble and care of feeding and raising it for 12 months and you only get about pay for your feed, not much more. Call on us at our place of business when you have cattle, hogs and sheep for sale. We will give you the profit in your pockets that the stock dealer and middle man has heretofore been getting.

NOVEL USE FOR TELEPHONE

Surgeons Employ Instrument to Determine the Exact Location of Bullets.

War is a stimulus to science, and this is reflected very strikingly in matters pertaining to the relief of the wounded. The search for and extraction of fragments of shells is no simple matter, although surgical endeavor has been facilitated by the perfection of the X-rays. But these are insufficient. A bullet may be located speedily, but the difficulty is to ascertain its precise position by the probe and lancet. As a result of study and investigation a simple and effective method of discovery has been perfected, which may be described as telephoning for bullets. Ordinary telephonic receivers are clamped over the surgeon's head, one wire being led to a carbon plate and the second wound round the knife, probe, needle, forceps or whatever instrument is used. With this implement the search is made, and directly it comes into contact with, say, a bullet, a distinct click is heard on the telephone. If the instrument is rubbed across the surface of the buried object a rattle is observed, and by following this clue it is possible to withdraw the bullet or fragment of metal. The idea is by no means new, inasmuch as it was employed for the first time during the Boer war; but the present campaign has served to bring it to a high state of perfection.

GUIDE TO JAPAN.

Walk up five months, beginning with January, turn sharply to your right, and there is June.

June is noted for its roses and honeymoons. There are more deserted households in June, on account of outgoing brides, than at any other time. Also more households where mamma experiences a grand feeling of relief and papa hopes that now expenses can be cut down.

To enjoy June properly, take an early start. Begin to make your plans about it in March. Get rid of your moral courage, your character and your regular business. Then, grabbing all the money there is in the cash drawer, enter June with confidence and give yourself up to it with the complete serenity of houseless irresponsibility.—Life.

PERSISTENT CHANGE.

"What are your ideas of the best form of government?"

"Oh," replied the restless agitator; "it isn't a question of what kind of a government we're after. It's merely getting rid of the one at present in operation."

AWKWARD SITUATION.

"For two dollars I will foretell your future."

"Are you a genuine soothsayer?"
 "I am."

"Then you ought to know that I haven't got two dollars."

NO WONDER.

"There is one class of employed men who are expected to strike."

"Who are they?"

"Baseball batters."

NO DOUBT.

"Cotton has some dire possibilities as an investment."

"Naturally; cotton is a baleful subject."

THE ONE EXCEPTION.

"Only when you are as cross as a bear," replied the wife.

MANY KINDS OF FLOUR

PREPARED CEREALS THAT SHOULD BE BETTER KNOWN.

Rice, Cornmeal and Those Made From Dried Beans All Contain a High Amount of Nutriment—Split Pea Loaf.

The only prepared cereal with which many women are acquainted is a well-known brand of prepared barley flour which they have used in infant feeding.

But it may be interesting to know that there are a number of other excellent prepared flours on the market which are almost unknown in many of our homes. There is just as good a prepared oatmeal flour which can be used for children's gruels, for thickening soups and for invalid cookery. The usual practice now is to boil rolled oats and have all the unpleasantness of straining them, etc.; but this can all be avoided by using the prepared oatmeal flour for the purposes above stated.

Similarly, there is a rice flour, a lentil flour, a cornmeal flour, and even flours from dried beans and other legumes. These are all very excellent, because they contain a high amount of nutriment, and because in this prepared form they are far easier to use than the ordinary whole grain. Any one who has ever eaten the Scotch "pease brose" will never forget the deliciousness that the true yellow split pea soup can give. There are also dishes possible from split peas and lentils which can be much more easily made with the prepared flours I am discussing. I was interested to learn only the other day from a well-known doctor also that there is now a prepared flour of the Chinese soy bean, which is also high in nutrients, and used extensively among the Chinese and Japanese. This makes a sweet flour, and is especially attractive made into muffins and small cakes.

Then there is also the banana flour, far too little known, which has a most delicious flavor, and which, combined with wheat flour, can be made into most attractive small cakes, muffins, biscuits, etc.

Familiar are many of the Scotch dishes, chief of which are those using yellow peas in some form. These yellow peas are known here in America, and cost about eight cents a pound. They have a large meaty value, or "protein." They can be made into a delicious soup by soaking them overnight, boiling until tender, straining through a fine sieve and thickening and flavoring as desired. Or they may be made into a loaf by boiling the pulp until very thick, pressing it through a sieve and combining it with bread crumbs sufficient to hold it together. Onions, tomatoes, ham or other tasty meat can be added to the peas while boiling. The crumbs and pea soup should be well mixed, molded into a roll and laid on a buttered pan and baked in an oven for about forty minutes, basting with butter. If desired, a tomato sauce can be poured over it just before serving. Any remnants of the loaf can be shaped into cakes and fried, like potato cakes, for the following lunch: Four cupfuls of peas or one pound, costing eight cents, will make an ample dish for a family of six. These peas also come in the form of a meal or fine powder resembling cornstarch, made by the Scotch into a peas pudding, or what we might call here a hot breakfast cereal. This meal can be bought at the best groceries and will form an attractive and nutritious change for a breakfast dish.—Exchange.

Marmalade Cake.

Half cupful butter, one cupful of sugar, creamed together, then add two eggs, one-half cupful sweet milk, pinch of salt and one and one-half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, add flour to make it the right consistency, and when it is all ready to put in the pan stir in one-half teaspoonful of orange marmalade. Frost with confectioner's sugar and orange juice stirred together. This is delicious.

Pork Stew.

Use pieces of fresh pork and pieces of sweetbread—liver, heart and tongue may be included. Boil in just enough water to cook them (the pieces of meat) tender. Before done (tender) season with table salt and considerable pepper. Then let the water all boil away (evaporate), and allow the contents of dish to fry until hand somely browned.

Prepared Mustard.

Three tablespoonfuls ground mustard, one tablespoonful flour, one teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful sugar, one-third cupful boiling water, two-thirds cupful vinegar. Mix dry ingredients, pour on boiling water until a smooth paste is made. Boil until thick and add vinegar. When cold this resembles French mustard.

When Washing Curtains.

Art muslin curtains should never be washed in warm water. Make a lather with hot water, and when it is nearly cold wash the curtains. If these are green, add a little vinegar; if lilac or pink, a little ammonia.

Salt That Won't Cake.

Mix one tablespoonful of cornstarch and four tablespoonfuls of common salt until very smooth. This mixture will not cake in the salt cellar and will not blacken their silver trimmings.

STRONGER THAN ANY WORDS

John Randolph's Silence and Pantomime Disconcerted Opponent Whom He Really Feared.

In painting the sacrifice of Iphigenia the artist, it has been said, exhausted the emotions of grief and horror in the faces of the bystanders.

"He has left nothing unsaid. How can he depict his father's sorrow?" was the anxious query of those friends who were watching the development of the picture. The artist threw a mantle over Agamemnon's face. The blank silence was more effective than any pictured woe.

One of the most extraordinary effects produced by absolute silence is recorded in the reports of a convention in which the foremost men of Virginia took part. John Randolph had a measure to carry in which he looked for the opposition of Alexander Campbell, a man then noted for his scholarship and power in debate.

Randolph had never seen the Scotch logician, but he had heard enough of him to make him and his partisans uneasy. When, therefore, the gaunt stranger first rose to speak in the convention Randolph looked at him with such an air of alarm as to attract the attention of the whole convention, and as he glanced around seemed to be asking for sympathy in his coming defeat. He then composed himself to listen with close attention.

Campbell, aware of this by-play, hesitated and lost the thread of his argument. Randolph's face by turns, as he listened, expressed weariness, indifference and finally contempt. He leaned back and yawned. Campbell sat down hastily. He had lost the whole force of his speech. Not a word had been spoken, but he was defeated—Exchange.

EXERCISE MAKING FOR GRACE

Even the Ordinary Household Task of Sweeping May Be Turned to Advantage.

All forms of directed exercise make for grace, asserts a writer in the Woman's Home Companion. A woman who wishes to be beautiful in the use of her body should learn to dance, swim and above all, to use her muscles well in the ordinary actions of life. When you are stooping to dust the rounds of a chair, do not bend over rigidly from the waist, but bend your knees, slightly, and flex the whole body toward the point where your hand is. When you sweep, grasp the handle of the broom firmly, step briskly and accurately in its path as you sweep, and be careful to hold up your shoulders. No sport in the world has a more beneficial effect upon womanly grace than the prosaic work of sweeping.

Never loll in a chair. If you wish to rest, lie back in it, pressing your back firmly against the support, relaxing your hands and finding a comfortable place for your head. When you sleep, stretch your limbs out fully and lie down—that is, lie so that you actually feel the support of the bed beneath you. This method will relax your muscles.

The Plug Hat.

The year 1915 is the centenary of the silk hat, known in common parlance as the tile, the plug and stovepipe.

The first silk hat was manufactured and worn in this country in 1815.

Some of the silk hats made in that year are still being worn. One can see them upon occasion of every great local society event or when Maude Adams or grand opera come to town.

On an occasion of this kind one can see silk hats of every style that has been manufactured from 1815 to 1915.

It is necessary to change the style of silk hats every year. If the style was not changed there would be no sale for them. An ordinary silk hat will wear as long as a cast iron paper weight. It is impossible to kill them off.—New Haven Journal-Courier.

Turning the Mangle.

The charitably inclined lady was paying a visit to Mrs. Atkins, whose husband was away fighting at the front. The visitor found the soldier's wife in a paroxysm of grief.

"Whatever is the matter?" exclaimed the visitor.

"Ain't yer heard?" was the sobbing reply. "Bill's in 'ospitl with both 'is arms off."

The lady was obviously shocked. With a view to easing the grief, however, she said:

"But the government will be sure to provide for you."

"That ain't it," was the tearful response. "Who's a goin' to turn the mangle for me on washin' days now, I'd like ter know?"

His Grievance Against the Doctor.

"Dat new-come white doctah am a swin'le!" disgruntledly declared Brother Fagg. "Dar I was, wid a compensation o' 'zeased dat had been uh-hurin' me to do grave for lo dese many yeahs. Wasn't able to do a stroke o' work, sah, but was dess 'bleeged to set around continual and 'Joy muh miz'ry, and hear people say, 'Dar's po Brudder Fagg! Ah-Lawd!—he ain't long for dis world!' And I wasn't long, twell I went to dat new doctah—ticky young scoundrel dess out'n college! And what did he do? BRIDGES FOR ALL STREAMS

Advocated In The Resolutions Adopted At Fort Barbecue.

GREAT BEE LINE RALLY.

Hopkinsville Sent Good Delegation of Enthusiastic Boosters.

A number of Hopkinsville people attended the barbecue given on the farm of Col. Joel B. Fort Thursday to boost the Dixie Bee Line Highway.

Col. Fort's Mint Spring farm is halfway between Adams and Guthrie, and about 3,000 people from as far north as Evansville, Ind., and as far south as Nashville, became acquainted with this good road enthusiast.

Among the most prominent persons present were: Mayor Benjamin Bosse of Evansville, Ind.; Dr. Cyrus Graham of Henderson, Ky., representing Governor McCreary of Kentucky; James Palmer of Nashville, Senator Luke Lea, Porter Dunlap, treasurer of the state of Tennessee, and Andrew Richardt, Henry Karges, Fred Bockstege, James Saunders, Miles Saunders and Dr. John Cox, all of Evansville.

Colonel Jno. T. Evans of Guthrie welcomed the visitors and introduced Colonel Fort, who then acted as master of ceremonies. Colonel Fort predicted that the Dixie bee-line highway would wipe out the Mason and Dixon's line and would more firmly unite the north and the south in spirit and friendship, as well as by means of a way of transportation. He introduced Mayor Bosse, who explained that the cause of the organization of the Dixie Bee-Line Highway association was the routing of the Dixie highway in such a manner that the cities of Terre Haute, Ind.; Evansville, Ind., Henderson, Ky., and Hopkinsville, Ky., were not touched by the road. Beginning at Danville, Ill., the Dixie bee-line will pass through these cities, and it is claimed by the boosters of the proposed road, which is routed through Guthrie and Adams, that more than 100 miles will be saved between Danville and Nashville.

RESOLUTIONS READ,

The following resolutions originated by Geo. E. Gary of this city, were adopted with applause:

“Whereas, the signs of the time point to the fact, and all economists agree, that the age of road building is here, and whereas it is further believed that the most important question confronting this country during the next decade will be that of vehicle road development; and whereas, transcontinental and interstate highways are being projected over this entire country; and whereas, rural route mails and parcels post are entitled to adequate appropriations under the department of postoffices and post roads; and whereas, the appropriation for this department has been found wholly inadequate to the proper repairs and maintenance of even such roads as are already being used for this purpose, to say nothing of the construction of the vast amount of new roads.

now contemplated:

“Now, therefore, be it resolved: ‘First—That federal aid be invoked at once in this great cause and that the portfolio of commissioner of highways be created in our cabinet having direct supervision of the department to be specifically known as ‘Vehicle Roads or Highways.’ If this can not be found feasible, resolved:

“Second—The appropriations for postoffices and post roads should be adequately increased to care for this, the most important work confronting this government and that the laws governing the application of the funds under the postoffices and post roads appropriations be so altered and revised as to make an adequate proportion to this fund available for the construction of vehicle bridges over navigable streams, intersecting state and interstate highways.

“Third—That the senate and house of our national congress have presented to them by this committee, at its next term, a memorial as above, and that our own representatives in said branches of congress be urged to take immediate steps toward compassing the object of these resolutions, within the shortest time possible.”

At noon wooden plates were passed around to every one, and the women opened their baskets, and spread the feast on the ground in picnic style.

Barbecue a plenty had been prepared and was done to a turn. More than 80 carcasses had been cooked, both sheep and pigs. Many of the family baskets contained the perfection of chicken, fried country style, and those family baskets were as open to a stranger as to a member of the family.

Music was furnished during the day by the Springfield (Tenn.) Booster band.

In closing the meeting Col. Fort predicted that the Dixie Bee-Line Highway would be completed by next July and would pass by Camp Fort. He invited everyone of his guests to return next year and celebrate the building of the road. He said that much enthusiasm had been aroused by the day's meeting and that he could pledge the support of Adams and Guthrie to the resolutions adopted by the merchants of Guthrie.

MAY DROP HUERTA CASE

Reports Current That There Will Be No Prosecution For Alleged Conspiracy.

Washington, July 8.—There were indications here tonight that the case against Gen. Huerta, charged with conspiracy to violate the neutrality of the United States by inciting a new Mexican revolution, might be abandoned.

Huerta is due to appear before a United States commissioner for a hearing next week. Although officials are reticent, persistent reports are current that there will be no prosecution and that Huerta will agree to leave the Mexican border and take up his residence somewhere in the northern part of the United States, to interfere no more in Mexican politics.

J. P. CAMPBELL ENDS HIS LIFE

Fired Bullet Into His Brain at Baltimore, Maryland Yesterday.

WAS BORN IN HOPKINSVILLE.

Was One of The First of “Ferrell's Boys” to Answer Invitation.

A dispatch from Baltimore in yesterday's Courier-Journal said: John Pearce Campbell, general agent in Baltimore of the American Credit Indemnity Company, ended his life about midnight at Annapolis by firing a bullet in his head. Mr. Campbell was 48 years old and is survived by his wife, a granddaughter of Rev. Jerry Johnson and one son by a former marriage, John Pearce Campbell, Jr., of Paducah, Ky. Mr. Campbell lived in Kentucky for some time.

Mr. Campbell was born in this city and on June 28 filled out his enrollment card as a “Ferrell's Boy” with the following data:

John Pearce Campbell, 10 South St., Baltimore, Md. Attended 1879 to 1883. Occupation—Credit Indemnity. Born Sept. 15, 1867. Married Oct. 28, 1891 and Sept. 23, 1908.

Accompanying the card was the following letter: “I am in receipt of the invitation to meet with Ferrell's Boys on the 20th of August. Nothing would give me more pleasure than to do this, but at this time I cannot see my way clear to encourage the hope, as I expect my plans will not permit of my enjoying this great pleasure. However, my heart and spirit and thoughts will be with you all upon that date.”

“I enclose herein data desired for files.

“Yours very sincerely,
JNO. P. CAMPBELL.”

Mr. Campbell was the third Jno. P. Campbell of his name and leaves a son of the same name.

His grandfather was President of the Bank of Hopkinsville 50 years ago; his father was a member of Congress in the sixties. Mr. Campbell was born in this city and his first wife was Miss Birdie Fowler, of Paducah. His mother was a sister of Senator Faulkner and Judge Faulkner of West Virginia. He left here in early manhood and located in Baltimore.

He was a splendid type of man, intelligent, handsome and of distinguished ancestry on both sides. The details of his death have not been learned here.

The burial will be at Winchester, Va.

DEATH OF MRS. ROACH.

Mrs. Mary Roach, wife of Cuthbert Roach, of Trigg county, died Wednesday at her home a few miles from Gracey. She had been ill about a month, suffering from a complication of diseases. The deceased was formerly Miss Mary Kevil, of Caldwell county, and was 33 years old. Her husband and two children survive. Mrs. Roach was a member of the Methodist church. The interment took place Thursday in the Roach burying ground.

AT LAST MOMENT

Two Popular Democrats File Petitions For Primary Election.

W. A. RADFORD AND T. C. JONES

Announce at Last Minute For Circuit Clerk and Representative.

At the very last minute Walter A. Radford and Tom. C. Jones filed petitions for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Court Clerk and representative. The Republican candidates Claude R. Clark, H. C. Locker and R. A. Cool thus learned for the first time that they will have a fight in November.

Judge J. T. Hanberry was left with out any opposition in or out of his party, for re-election as circuit judge.

Mr. Radford is the present Circuit Clerk and is just completing a term of six years. He was elected in 1909, receiving a vote of 4,254 to 3,592 cast for his republican opponent.
